

Master of Education in Educational Leadership

The Master of Education in Educational Leadership is a comprehensive graduate program designed for experienced teachers, school administrators, and district personnel who seek to further their careers in academic leadership roles.

Offered through CCU's College of Adult and Graduate Studies, the program is designed to address many of the issues faced by educators in the public and private sectors alike. The primary aim of the Educational Leadership curriculum is to provide you with a tangible framework of leadership skills to prepare you for the challenges faced by school administrators.

Graduates who satisfactorily complete all requirements of the M.Ed. in Educational Leadership (licensing) program may apply to the Colorado Department of Education for a principal license.

This Education master's degree is ideal for those with the desire to improve public, private, charter, or international K-12 education systems. Education professionals, ranging from experienced teachers to curriculum developers, as well as district personnel, are ideal candidates for the program.
