MASTER OF ARTS IN COUNSELING

The Master of Arts in Counseling program at Colorado Christian University combines compelling coursework, professional practice, and mentoring relationships designed to equip you to be a professional counselor who is responsive to all cultures. The curriculum is taught within a Christian framework, giving you the unique opportunity to integrate Christ-like faith and sound clinical counseling principles.

Offered both online and on-site, this 60-credit hour counseling program gives you the flexibility to earn your master's degree where it's most convenient for you. In addition to your core curriculum, you are offered a variety of electives that include Neuroscience and Clinical Counseling, Addictive Behaviors, and Child and Adolescent Diagnosis and Treatment.

Upon completion of CCU's M.A. in Counseling program, you will be prepared to take the National Counselor Exam (NCE). After graduation, you can enter into a variety of professions within the counseling field. Find more information on the Master of Arts in Counseling website.

Master of Arts in Counseling Program Features

ONLINE AND ON-SITE

This program is offered both online and on-site. The online M.A. in Counseling allows you to participate in real-time videoconferencing with fellow classmates and your professor. On-site classes are held in the late afternoon and evenings and are taught in a hybrid format, with in-person and online assignments.

CACREP ACCREDITED

CCU's Master of Arts in Counseling program is nationally accredited by the Council for Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs (CACREP). Programs accredited by CACREP are reviewed against professionally approved standards, resulting in a streamlined licensure application process. According to the council, research shows CACREP graduates perform better on the National Counselor Examination for Licensure and Certification (NCE).

AWARD-WINNING FACULTY

CCU's M.A. in Counseling faculty members have over 200 years of combined experience and have been recognized with many awards that include Professional Advocacy, Outstanding Counseling Educator, and Outstanding Counseling Supervisor. Our faculty members are active in the counseling profession and academic community.

HONOR SOCIETY

CCU has a chapter of the Chi Sigma Iota (CSI) international honor society. CSI values academic and professional excellence in counseling and promotes a strong professional identity through its 100,000 members (professional counselors, counselor educators, and students) who contribute to the realization of a healthy society by fostering wellness and human dignity. Membership is by invitation only to those recognized for their attainment of academic and clinical excellence in professional counseling.
