MASTER OF EDUCATION IN

EDUCATIONAL LEADERSHIP

The Master of Education in Educational Leadership is a comprehensive graduate program designed for experienced teachers, school administrators, and district personnel who seek to further their careers in academic leadership roles.

Offered through CCU's College of Adult and Graduate Studies, the program is designed to address many of the issues faced by educators in the public and private sectors alike. The primary aim of the Educational Leadership curriculum is to provide you with a tangible framework of leadership skills to prepare you for the challenges faced by school administrators.

Graduates who satisfactorily complete all requirements of the M.Ed. in Educational Leadership (licensure) program may apply to the Colorado Department of Education for a principal license.

This Education master's degree is ideal for those with the desire to improve public, private, charter, or international K-12 education systems. Education professionals, ranging from experienced teachers to curriculum developers, as well as district personnel, are ideal candidates for the program.

Master of Education in Educational Leadership Degree Options

PRINCIPAL LICENSURE

CCU's M.Ed. in Educational Leadership is designed for experienced teachers, school administrators, and district personnel who seek to further their careers as academic leaders. This master's program is ideal for candidates with the desire to improve public or private K-12 education systems. Graduates who satisfactorily complete all requirements of the Master of Education in Educational Leadership licensure program, including a semester-long leadership internship, may apply to the Colorado Department of Education for a principal license. Licensure is granted through the Colorado Department of Education. Out of state candidates must seek reciprocity through their state's Department of Education.

Stand-alone Principal Licensure

The 27-credit-hour principal licensure-only track is designed for experienced teachers who are seeking a path to become licensed school principals without completing a graduate degree. The program prepares candidates to obtain a Colorado principal's license and is designed to enhance expertise in governance, finance, law, leadership, and strategic planning.

NON-LICENSURE

CCU's M.Ed. in Educational Leadership non-licensure program seeks to develop innovative, collaborative, effective, and reflective leaders who will provide quality learning opportunities for a rapidly changing and increasingly diverse population — while improving the learning of all students within private settings such as Christian schools.

Master of Education in Educational Leadership Degree Program Features
