

Master of Arts in School Counseling

The Master of Arts in School Counseling offered through CCU's College of Adult and Graduate Studies prepares you to begin the process of licensure as a professional school counselor. This 100% online master's program offers a proactive and preventative model for providing professional counseling services in a school setting, uniting biblical truth with clinical competence, mentoring students to become Christ-like leaders in the field of education.

Taught by highly qualified professors with extensive academic and counseling experience, this 60-credit hour school counseling program is designed with the flexibility you need to fit into the busy, active lifestyles of working adults with families and other responsibilities. Courses are taken two at a time and are typically completed in seven-week blocks.

Upon completion of CCU's M.A. in School Counseling program, you will be prepared to begin the process of seeking licensure as a Licensed School Counselor by passing a state-administered licensure exam and the CACREP Degree Equivalency Process. After graduation, you will have countless opportunities in the expanding field of school counseling, working with students PreK – high school in a variety of locations and settings.
